H. D. SNYDER TO MAKE EFFORT FOR STATE MEETING.

C. OF C. TO CO-OPERATE

About 300 Attend Conventions Of Spanish-American War Veterans—Is Held At Joplin This Year.

An effort will be made by H. D. Snyder, commander of the Theodore Roosevelt Camp No. 24, United Spanish War Veterans to bring the state convention of this organization to Maryville next year.

Mr. Snyder, together with Henry Moore, a delegate from the local camp, will leave for Joplin Sunday morning to attend the state meeting there Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

About 300 men from every section of Missouri attend the state conventions each year. The meetings are held in June and last year Mr. Snyder told the state delegation he would make an effort to secure the 1926 convention for Maryville. The meetings last for three days each year and usually start with a Sunday night service at one of the churches.

"There are two sessions held at the same time," Mr. Snyder said this morning in discussing the state convention. "One is for the veterans of the Spanish-American War, and the other is for the various auxiliaries of the posts. One of these could be held at the courthouse, high school building, Elks Club or country club. We would also want something in the way of amusements, such as ball games, golf, tour of the city or other things of interest.

"A company from Maryville served in the Spanish-American War and there are thirty-one members in our local camp. Many veterans from Mound City, St. Joseph, Bethany and other towns where there are posts that would attend the meeting, if it were held here. Delegations from other cities throughout the states are always present at the state conventions."

The board of directors of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce has voted to support Mr. Snyder in his efforts to obtain the state convention for Maryville next year. Aid will be given him to secure this meeting and advertising matter about Maryville will be distributed at the state meeting at Joplin next week. Telegrams inviting the veterans next year will also be sent by the various organizations here about next Tuesday.

Fred Kurtz Speaks At Y. M. C. A. Meeting

Fred Kurtz gave a short talk on "The Power of One' this morning at the first meeting of the College Y. M. C. A. He stressed the fact that in the past much of the important accomplishments in the world had been brought about by mass work. Now, however, "he said," the individual has been given a place. The training of the individual has developed individuality until there are many examples of one man having great influence in the world. It is the the power of one, spiritually, that makes the world noble," said Mr. Kurtz. "The power of one has saved a nation." His closing plea that all might be ready to stand forth for the right and in times of need be ready to use the individual power.

The meeting was attended by about forty-five. Devotional was led by Jack Sheely. C. O. Morrison pleased the men with a vocal solo, accompanied by Miss Pixler at the piano.

Paul Stone is president of the Y. M. C. A. this summer.

Miss Naill Chosen Secretary Y. W. C. A.

BRANCH BANKS ARE DEFENDED

FINANCIER SAYS THEY OFFER SOLUTION.

WOULD MODIFY LAW

Federal Reserve Officer Advocates Larger And Stronger Banks As Cure For Unhealthy Condition.

Washington, June 9.—The first gun of a Congressional fight to modify statutory limitations against branch banking was fired today when Edmund Platt, vice-governor of the federal reserve board, came out flatly for drastic changes in the national banking act.

Platt, addressing bankers here today gave branch banking as the cure for the unhealthy condition of the American financial system which is reflected in 295 bank failures between January 1 and May 29.

"Our national banking system would be much stronger if we could provide in the future that no banks could be chartered with a capital of less than $50,000 or more than $100,000," Platt said.

"When smaller banks are necessary to accommodate the people, branches should be permitted," he continued.

Platt holds that larger banks will serve as a better protection to financial interests, large and small, pointing out that a majority of the failures were the smaller institutions.

Embroidery in Bright Colors

THE lines to this gown of white georgette crepe are simple enough, but the wide band of wool embroidery in bright colors and the fringed hemline make it very striking and unusual. A scarf of black illusion makes the oriental looking turban, one end of which is wound about the throat and falls over the shoulder.

BUILDING PLAN IS UNDER WAY

SHORTAGE OF HOUSES MAY BE RELIEVED

STARTS EXPERIMENT

Joseph P. Wheat of Muskogee, Okla. May Build Number of Houses Here if Demand Justifies

The shortage of houses in Maryville, especially evident during the last two or three years may be relieved to a considerable extent by a plan inaugurated by the Joseph P. Wheat Construction Co. of Muskogee, Okla.

Mr. Wheat, who has been in Maryville for several days, has started the construction of a six-room house on the north side of West Second street in the 500 block. The house is being constructed along somewhat elaborate lines, Mr. Wheat, said and will be used as a "feeler" to find out what the home-seekers here like.

However, Mr. Wheat's company might start work on a number of five or six-room houses, modern but without the "frills," if the people of Maryville favor this type.

His plan of aiding families to own their homes is by a small payment down and the balance monthly. In this way, he says that many persons will be enabled to purchase their homes within the course of a few years. Several local business men have endorsed the plan.

The problem of shortage of homes in Maryville has been discussed by a number of organizations here for the last several years. Several plans have been suggested but no action has been taken.

Mr. Wheat has had more than thirty years experience in the construction business and has built houses in various towns in Oklahoma as well as in Pacific coast states. He is a native of Missouri, having been reared near Liberty.

WILBUR WILL REFUSE AID

"NOT GOING ON WILD GOOSE CHASE TO POLAR REGIONS"

CAPE COLUMBIA OBJECT

Believes That Amundsen North Pole Party Endeavoring To Reach This Point, Says McMillan.

Boston, June 9.—The Amundsen polar expedition is out of Fort Coger, General Adolphus W. Greely's old head quarters, on Ellesmere Island, ninety miles southeast of Cape Columbia, if it has been able to make landing, Lieut.-Com. Donald McMillan, believes.

In the event of any troubles Fort Coger would be the natural objective, McMillan said.

"There are three rugged wooden houses there, built by Parry in 1909, and food and coal supplies, would be adequate," he said.

Copenhagen, June 9.—Reports from Oslo indicated today that meteorologists and representatives of the Dornier Airplane Works at Spitzbergen now believe the Amundsen-Ellsworth North Pole flyers are endeavoring to reach Cape Columbia. At that point relief could be sent to the party by a steamer expedition.

This belief is based on statements by members of the Amundsen expedition still at Spitzbergen who said that Amundsen told them that if he did not return by airplane within fourteen days or was forced to descend, he would make his way to Cape Columbia.

Washington, June 9.—Secretary Wilbur has refused the request of the Norwegian Aero Club to send the dirigible Los Angeles or Shenandoah in search of the Amundsen polar expedition, he announced late yesterday.

The request was transmitted to President Coolidge while he was en route to Minnesota, and was referred by him to Secretary Wilbur. The navy department, the secretary said, has not changed its original opinion that such an expedition was not feasible.

"We are not going to send any wild goose chase to the polar regions," he declared.

Mr. Wilbur pointed out that the Norwegian club had organized the Amundsen expedition, and that rescue work had already been started by Norway. The club said the most probable point of return of Amundsen was Cape Columbia, in Grant Land, off northwestern Greenland, and it urged that the United States send a rescue expedition in that direction.

Mr. Wilbur said that if a dirigible expedition should be sent, it would not be ready to operate before the MacMillan arctic expedition could make a search of the Cape Columbia region with its three airplanes, and he indicated a belief that the difficulties of a dirigible in the arctic would be much more severe than those of heavier than air craft.

Will Take Care of All Prison Inmates

Possible Crowded Condition in Missouri Penitentiary Doesn't Worry Sam A. Baker—Pardons Four

St. Louis, June 9—"When the penitentiary cells are full, we'll hang 'em on hooks on the walls," Governor Baker said today in commenting on a possible overflow of convicts at the state penitentiary. The governor had reference to the time-honored custom of pardoning a batch of prisoners whenever the prison becomes congested.

"I have only paroled four so far, and three of them were carried out on stretchers," he said.

The governor was here for several school commencements.

SAYS "NO" ON DEFENSE DAY

GOVERNOR BAKER SAYS PLANS FOR JULY 4 MADE.

FOR EMERGENCY ONLY

In Communication To War Department Executive Declares Day Should Be Observed.

Jefferson City, June 9—Governor Sam A. Baker has stated objections to the war department against using July 4 as national defense day. The objection is on the grounds that the holiday should not be used for any demonstration except in the case of a great emergency. The governor, however, proposes no alternative date. His letter to the war department is as follows:

"To use the Fourth of July for any demonstration except in case of a great emergency other than for which it has been the custom throughout generations does not seem to be warranted.

"The majority of the people, including those who are members of the National Guard, already have perfected their arrangements for the Fourth of July holidays, and I believe the intervening time is all too short in which to give the necessary urge and publicity to cause them to change their present arrangements.

"Unless the movement can be made an outstanding success, I believe it is far better not to attempt the proposed demonstration in this state on that day."

St. Louis, June 9.—Governor Baker said here last night he had advised President Coolidge Missouri would cooperate in the plans for a defense test July 4.

"I told the President we would try to carry out his suggestions when advised definitely what they were," Mr. Baker said. "We stand ready to do whatever the President wants. Adjutant-General Rumbold has charge of details and will map out Missouri's participation."

HURL MUD AT U. S. SAILORS

ARE STATIONED AT BORDER SETTLEMENTS IN CHINA

MORE CHINESE STRIKE

Agitators Attempting to Effect A Boycott of All Japanese and British Goods.

Shanghai, June 9.—Mobs of Chinese today threw mud on American bluejackets stationed at the border settlement to guard foreigners from the Chinese rioters on general strike against all foreigners.

Chinese constabularies intervened and drove off the Chinese before the Americans were forced to take action.

Ten British river and coast steamers failed to sail last night and this morning because of a walkout of members of the Chinese seamen's union. The union threatens to call out enough men to tie up all shipping, including trans-Pacific and European liners.

Striking agitators are directing their strongest efforts against Japanese and British subjects in an attempt to effect a nation-wide boycott of all Japanese and British goods.

Shanghai, June 9.—An indication of a split in the ranks of the anti-foreign agitators and rioters was apparent in the general distribution of a circular from a new Chinese organization, called the Shanghai Patriotic Aim association, which denounced the leaders of the communitsts in the pay of soviet Russia, and accused them of discrediting the whole Chinese patriotic movement for selfish purposes and Russian gold.

The circular charges the communists with responsibility for the anti-foreign character of the present agitation, and declares the Chinese communists are receiving from the soviets 50 thousand dollars for every student killed. It states that the real responsibility rests with the Chinese communists who work with Moscow.

The Chinese commissioners sent here to investigate were immediately bombarded by radicals and threatened if they did not listen to the radical viewpoint. The labor bodies, union shopkeepers and students' union have presented the government representatives with demands that the powers call off the martial law, that the naval forces be withdrawn, that the arrested leaders be liberated, that the police responsible for the firing be placed on trial for murder, that the British and Japanese governments be required to make a joint apology, that the British secretary of the municipal council be discharged, that the Chinese residents receive the right to print newspapers and circulars without interference, that the international mixed court be restored to Chinese control, that the foreign consular jurisdiction be abolished, and that the British and Japanese navies be withdrawn from Shanghai forever.

CITIZENS, GOOD AND BAD.

In every community there are people who are always doing good and people who are always doing ill. There are those who are for forever serving and giving and those who only ask and take. It is an unhappy community that does not have its citizens who are untiring in their efforts to help the home town, but there is no community that does not have those citizens who ask much from the community and give nothing in return.

There is another type of human whom others might do well to emulate. He is the one who always has a thought for others. He never ceases to be solicitous of others and has a genius for doing at the right time those little acts which mean so much to the recipient. The opposite of this citizen is he who measures everything by its ability to benefit himself and who thinks of himself first, last and always.

On the community "judgment day" the citizenry will be divided under two standards. Under the one standard will be the indispensable citizens. Under the other standard will be the dispensable citizens.

CONGRESS MUST TAKE RESPONSIBILITY.

The unanimous decision of the United States Supreme Court absolving certain newspapers of any blame for the publication of information about income tax payments furnished by the Internal Revenue Department is nothing more than has been confidently expected all along. It deprives our legislative and executive authorities of the power of taking credit to themselves for the passage of the publicity law and of laying the blame on the newspapers for any harm it might do. In other words the Supreme Court has in the language of the street, forbidden Congress or any of the government bureaus to make a "goat" out of the daily press.

The publicity law was enacted by Congress to placate rabid sentiment against the possessors of large incomes. It was meant to expose those who have been hiding their incomes away in tax-exempt securities, and if it could have been confined to that end it must have served the higher interests of the nation. But the experiment of making public the incomes of all taxpayers showed that it contained many evils not dreamed of by its proponents and supporters. It has been shown how hardships and actual financial damage can be done under the law to honest business men who are doing their full duty by the government. These evils were contained in the making public of the information and not in the publication by the newspapers.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

State-Wide Harmony Object of Meeting

Missouri Democrats To Assemble In St. Louis On June 29 "To Talk Things Over" for 1926.

St. Louis, Mo., June 9.—State-wide harmony will be the principal theme at the meeting of Missouri Democrats here June 29.

Some form of leadership for the Democratic ship in the state is expected to come from the meeting. William T. Kemper, Kansas City, Democratic national committeeman, is already formulating plans for party harmony.

One of the principal issues to come up will be party harmony towards electing a senator in 1926. The Democrats will attempt to name a man who can step into the present Republican filled position formerly held by the late Senator Selden P. Spencer. George H. Williams, St. Louis, a Republican is serving the remainder of Spencer's term.

Charles M. Hay, St. Louis lawyer and ardent dry advocate, is conceded one of the foremost chances for the Democratic nomination—and there's where part of the harmony must be built.

For it is considered highly probable that Representative Harry Hawes, St. Louis, will make a bid for the Democratic nomination.

With Hawes and Hay both running there is possibility of a rupture which may again demoralize the state Democratic forces. For such a fight probably would bring up these issues:

Wet vs. Dry.

Reed-Wilson division.

McAdoo-Smith division which disrupted the Democratic chances in the national election.

Meanwhile Kemper is attempting to build up a strong and peaceable organization which would put Missouri back into the Democratic column, from which it has skidded in the last few years. First indications of his work is that approximately $20,000 of the party debt has been cleared up.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scott and the latter's sister, Miss Flo Dungy, all of Graham, went to St. Joseph this morning to spend the day.

City's Growth Depends Upon Amount of Effort Used to Boost Community

The following is the sixth installment of the article on "Community Advertising," written for the Democrat-Forum and Tribune by D. A. Caldwell, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce.

In planning a city's growth, results are obtained in direct proportion to the amount of community effort and advertising that is put forth. The foundation of value of city property is employment. Every job creates foundations for lot value. Business promotion is co-operative in spirit. By the expenditure of less than $50,000 in two years, Baltimore located, 52 manufacturing plants, the combined capital of which exceeded $100,000,000.00.

It is good business to change the buyers of a community from slow to prompt pay.

Farm business must go forward with that of the city.

Economic advantages of a community are: climate, industrial activity, labor resources, proximity to raw materials and markets, transportation, storage facilities, wholesale and retail possibilities, good roads, population, water, schools, churches, banks, utilities, residences, art, literature, music, recreational possibilities, civic organizations, city and state taxes, and newspapers. It is important that a community be self supporting.

Seattle has capitalized the value of the national tourist business. In 3 years the Chamber of Commerce has answered 54,000 individual inquiries, mailed out 190,000 illustrated booklets, and 130,000 other pieces of literature, and given personal service to 62,455 people. Dallas, Texas, was one of the first cities to advertise nationally and in the first two years located eleven manufacturing plants and twenty-five branch houses of northern and eastern concerns.

During 1923 the communities of the Far West, Colorado, Montana, Wyoming, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, and California, spent more than $2,000,000 for publicity. The Automobile Club of Southern California, Inc., $900,000.00.

A study of community advertising in 65 cities, shows that in every case the financial outlay was the result of cold analysis, demonstrating the necessity of such procedure, if more and permanent patrons were to be secured for the community. Applying the 'economic test' gives community advertising a scientific basis for initiation and operation. Every penny spent in carefully planned advertising brings back a nickel. It always costs money to sell goods. Advertised communities will draw permanent patrons, others will not.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By Charles P. Stewart
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—When the Cook County commissioners refused a few days ago to turn over the state's share of the county taxes to the treasurer of Illinois, they took the first step toward what may prove to be the greatest change this country has known since big cities began to grow.

The state treasurer naturally will sue. And since a federal constitutional principle is involved—

Ah, a word as to that principle! It's the crux of the whole thing.

Illinois was districted for legislative purposes long before Chicago—Chicago and Cook County are the same thing—had attained its present population. On the basis of its then number of inhabitants it was given adequate representation at Springfield.

Chicago grew, however, out of all proportion to the rest of the state. Out of all the citizens of Illinois, nearly half are Chicagoans.

They pay more than half the state taxes. But their representation in the legislature hasn't been increased by a single seat.

Finally they demanded a redistricting of the state, on an up-to-date population basis. Rural members of the legislature, heavily outnumbering the city representatives, turned the proposition down.

Thereupon, "Cook county," said the commissioners, "is being taxed without representation—without due representation, at any rate. This is unconstitutional. By violating the constitution the legislature has invalidated itself. We repudiate taxation imposed and laws made by an illegal body."

Well, as previously remarked, the state treasurer will sue, of course, probably in the state courts.

But a federal constitutional principle being involved, the commissioners doubtless will get the case before a federal judge. There will be appeals, but both sides will be in a hurry, the treasurer for his money and the commissioners to vindicate their position.

It will be a litigation well worth pushing ahead. In short order it will be before the supreme court in Washington.

Now, suppose Chicago wins. It will mean a revolution, nothing less. Not a big city in the country but is in Chicago's fix.

New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, New Orleans, Minneapolis, St. Paul—all the rest—all in the same boat!

Not one but is under rural domination. The country is predominantly urban, as census figures show. But it is rurally governed in every single state.

It looked as if this might go on forever. The situation could be changed only by the votes of rural legislators and they wouldn't vote that way.

Chicago, however, has thought up a method of attacking the problem from a new angle—the judicial instead of the legislative one. It may work.

If so, it's inevitable that every center of population which hitherto has suffered under the misrule of those who, at best, knew nothing of metropolitan conditions, and, at worst, positively enjoyed playing horse with city slickerdom, will follow the example of the community by the lake.

Then look out for some mighty rapid changes in a lot of laws!

Reception for Graduates.

A short program was given, consisting of music by a mixed quartette, musical readings and piano numbers. M. I. Rose gave an excellent talk to the graduates and presented each member a leather-bound copy of the New Testament containing inch-wide ribbons in the class colors of green and gold. On the ribbons were printed names of the graduates, date, names of church and Sunday School, and the following passage of scripture from 2 Timothy 2:15: "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

Ethmer Jenkins, acting president, gave the response in behalf of the class. A novel feature of the evening was a test given the class in first grade and elementary geography. Prizes were awarded for highest grades. During the social hour Mrs. W. W. Linebaugh, Mrs. Corn Bell Clary, Mrs. Earl Clark and Mrs. Maun Poleson served ice cream and angel food cake.

Handy in This Unchivalrous Age

THE woman who carries this type of handbag can be assured of a seat at any time and any place. To the unsuspecting mind there is nothing unusual about the bag except that it may be a little overgrown, but that is nothing as bags go. Inside, however, it contains a framework that is capable of being erected to form a comfortable seat for the not too heavy. For races, sports, sketching—and even in street cars when the men set pat, it is highly recommended.

Suggests Remedy to Cure Banditry Wave

Kansas City, Kan., June 9.—A bandit in the morgue is worth two in the "hoosegow" and a drunken driver is much more deadly than the "business end" of a shotgun, according to the Rev. W. G. Durham, Methodist minister.

Preaching with a shot gun in one hand and a Bible in the other, the Rev. Durham said:

"This gun I hold in my hand has but two shots. If I run wild and fire it, I may kill two or three, yet the man behind the wheels of a car with a booze-clouded mind, his vision blurred and his hand unsteady, may hope to kill an inestimable number if only his car will hold out."

The armed parson then outlined his plan to rid this city of bandits:

"I would organize vigilantes in every section of the city; every place of business would contribute to the membership of the organization. Homes would be invaded for membership until a call (a city-wide telephone ring) every street in town would have a vigilante ready to fill a bandit with the much needed lead."

ECZEMA

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S.S.S. are really amazing!

MANY people imagine that eczema or tetter needs only some external application on the skin in order to get relief. This is because the attention of the sufferer is so violently directed to the intense burning and itching which accompanies this disease. Try as they may—permanent relief will never be theirs until the disease laden blood is thoroughly cleansed.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema and that is more red-blood-cells! S.S.S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it. Skin eruptions, eczema, with all its fiery, skin digging torture, and its soul-tearing, unreachable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of Nature! S.S.S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826.

S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body strengtheners known to us mortals! When you put these facts together,—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. S.S.S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S.S.S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs eczema, clears the skin, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, and gives you that more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

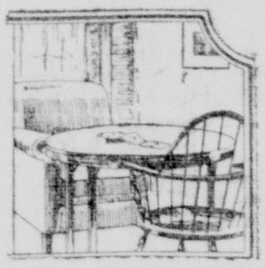
"Where Your Patronage is Appreciated"



There are different ways of buying the "Outfit"--

Soon-to-be-weds have a much more serious problem before them when buying their home furnishings than most people think.

It is one thing to go to a furniture store and buy what a salesman wishes to sell to you—in other words, to merely "buy furniture."

However, it is quite another thing to go to a store where they will sit down and PLAN with you, submit ideas and listen to YOUR ideas, and then suggest furnishings that you will be happy and contented with, satisfied TO LIVE WITH—furniture that will give you joy because of its companionship, give you comfort, make you feel proud because you own it.

We in Price's feel that we would like to be considered as your "assistant home furnishers" rather than as a mere furniture store. We want to share in helping you furnish a home that will be a constant and everlasting JOY to you.

The large assortment of stocks is here; the new low prices are here; the credit you may wish or need is here; proper appreciation of your patronage is here; a courteous and efficient sales force is here—all ready for you to come in and talk it over. You are welcome.

NUTRITION QUESTION BOX

NUTRITION QUESTION:

"I give all my children one-half glass of milk and fill the cup up with coffee. They seem to like it better this way. Do you think it is all right to do this?"

ANSWER:

This question comes up often in nutrition work. The half cup of coffee which you give your children harms them just as much as if you did not put the milk in too. But the worst thing about it is that the children like the flavor of coffee and as they grow older the proportion of coffee always increases and the amount of milk gets less and less until they give it up altogether. Of course children like coffee and tea flavors because they are such very decided ones and milk is so bland in flavor. It is easier to keep the children drinking milk if they have never been allowed to taste coffee.

However, there are several flavors which can be added to milk in order to get the children to drink it that are harmless. These are vanilla, chocolate and the addition of malted milk. Usually if the parents drink milk the children will also. For the younger children try pasting colored pictures on the bottoms of the milk glasses and the children will be so anxious to see the pictures that they will drink the milk to see what is on the bottom this time. Some mothers find that they can encourage the milk drinking habit by using glass measuring cups and letting several children see which one drinks the most milk. They like to see the milk line go down. Then you may find that the children will drink milk thru a straw from a bottle better than any other way. Every child should have a quart of milk each day but of course all of it does not have to be drunk. I think if you try some of these schemes you will find them much better than mixing good milk with such a harmful material as coffee.

His Mistake

Two business friends who lived in the country met one day, and one invited the other to dine with him that evening.

At the appointed time the guest set forth in the direction of his friend's house, and as the roads in the village were somewhat dimly lighted he took with him his old-fashioned stableman's lantern.

The dinner was good, the wine excellent, and all went merrily.

The next morning, however, he received the following note from his host of the night before:

"Dear old man: I am sending my man over to you with this note, and he takes with him your lantern. If you have quite finished with my parrot and cage, I shall be awfully glad if you will return same per bearer."—From Everybody's Magazine for June.

Maybe It Was But It Seems It Surely Wasn't

Detroit, Mich, June 9.—Sixteen hundred Kentucky colonels from Louisville who left their sun baked hills for a week end of beer-full mirth in Windsor, had straggled back home today still limp from heat and parched from thirst.

A pitiless sun again is pouring its rays on their helpless heads. And now the thousands of barrels of exhilirating stimulants, which seemed to grin at them from behind bonded warehouses last week, must be laughing outright. For the party has been dubbed the biggest beer fiasco of North America.

Magnetized by the mirage of thirst quenching fluid and made desperate by the terrific heat and grinning barrels, colonels collected their army and came in a two section train to fight a new battle of emancipation.

Twenty-four cars, boasting nary a sleeper or diner and crammed to capacity with whites and negroes, rushed into town to the tune of "How Dry I Am" early Sunday after an all night ride from Louisville.

On to Windsor charged the beer brigade. Not even a halt was made for breakfast. This crowd wanted beer, not food. They even refused water, for fear of spoiling their good thirst.

The old rebel yell re-echoed from the dock as the ferry landed and the mob, now excited to a frenzy as they neared their goal, scrambled pell-mell to hotels.

Gradually as the crowd melted from sight into the various emporiums the shouts died away. The noisy din settled down to gasps for air being made by the gulpers.

Then almost in unison and with hardly a word, each looked somewhat sheepishly at his neighbor. All was quiet now.

"Well, sub, it does foam," one elderly connoisseur answered our query. "Yes, suh it does. But it tastes jes like what I got out of my faucet at home."

Agricultural Facts Necessary.

William M. Jardine, Secretary of Agriculture, in Nation's Business Magazine says: American urban business does not yet as a whole understand farming or the farmer. For example, a group of city business men, honest and well meaning, hits upon the idea that more dairying is needed in the community. The business men reach this conclusion on the basis of articles they have read in newspapers and magazines pointing out that dairying is a stabilizer of agriculture, which, of course, it is. But it may happen that their community is already carrying on all the dairying that can be effectively maintained there.

The project of the business men will cost money and labor but will be a failure because the men back of it do not thoroughly understand the agriculture of their own community. In many perhaps most places, an increase in dairying would be exceedingly useful, but it is not safe in any particular case to rely on a generality like this. A chamber of commerce surveys its town before inviting industries promiscuously to locate there; it doesn't want to risk the liklihood of business failures. It is just as easy and just as important to make a survey of a farming community under direction of the farmers of that community and with the assistance of agriculturists of experience in that field of work.

Furthermore, the business man in city or town must realize that the farmer is likewise a business man, and that business men have a perpetual objection to being directed from the outside. Nobody needs to tell the farmer what to do. He has little liking for advice, and rightly so. What he wants is an equal chance to carry on his business as other business is carried on. He will welcome cooperation from others, just as any good business man will, but he will insist on running his own business.

Nation Spends 8 Billion Year on Automobiles

17,500,000 Now In Use, Latest Report —Pointed Out Motor Car Is Economic Necessity.

Washington, D. C., June 9.—Eight billion dollars are being spent annually in the United States for the purchase and maintenance of automobiles. There are now 17,500,000 cars and trucks in use, or one to every seven persons. Two million dollars are being spent each year for the purchase of cars and the rest goes for accessories, gasoline, tires, repairs, and garage items.

The importance which the automobile has assumed among the country's industries is revealed in a report compiled by the American committee on highway transport for submission to the third biennial conference of the international chamber of commerce which opens at Brussels on June 21.

The widespread use of the motor car is given credit by the committee for an increase of billions of dollars in the country's wealth and resources. After pointing out the motor car is not a luxury but an economic necessity, the report states:

"During the period of the motor car's advance in America savings banks deposits have nearly doubled, individual bank deposits have more than tripled, assets of building and loan associations have tripled, and life insurance in force has increased two and one-half times. This would seem to prove that development of the automobile as a basic element of transportation has been a vital part of the increased efficiency and productive capacity of all interests."

This development has revolutionized farm life. Estimates place the number of automobiles on the 6,500,000 farms of the United States at 4,200,000 in 1924, with 370,000 motor trucks.

"Motor transportation," says the report, "has brought the town and country closer. It has destroyed the historic isolation of the farm and farmer. It has permitted a notable extension in educational facilities available for rural populations."

In Indianapolis and St. Paul more than 90 per cent of the milk is hauled direct from the producer to the city distributor by motor truck, and from 10 to 95 per cent of the country's total production of butter, eggs, fruit, potatoes, and hogs are being delivered by motor.

The employment of hundreds of thousands in the automobile and allied industries, the growth of the tourist business, the building of good roads all over the country, and the development of suburban home centers are other results cited.

"Evolutionist" Sees Tall Buildings First Time

New York, June 9.—With a crick in his neck from gazing at the tall buildings he was seeing for the first time John T. Scopes, youthful teacher of biology in Dayton, Tenn., who next month will be the central figure in the now famous evolution trial, is conferring with officials of the American Civil Liberties Union who will aid in his defense.

Scopes, freckled faced, tow headed and shy, is to be tried for violating a state law prohibiting the teaching of evolution in the schools of Tennessee.

"It was just a drug store argument that got out of control" he explained. "They dared me to teach it, so I went ahead and did, and see what has happened."

The bustle and road of New York, its myriad skyscrapers, millions of motor and most of all the subway expresses, bewildered and delighted the country school teacher.

"He Who Gets Slapped" Is a Feature Picture

"He Who Gets Slapped" is a motion picture production that can be truthfully called great. It will be shown at the College on Friday and Saturday nights and will be for the benefit of the 1925 Tower Staff.

Victor Seastrom, Lon Chaney and Leonid Andreyev share honors for this remarkable photoplay. Andreyev's story is internationally famous. Seastrom conclusively demonstrated by his masterful handling of the story and people that he is one of the foremost directors of the day. Chaney gives what is probably his best performance. As the clown in "He Who Gets Slapped" Chaney is not a grotesque figure, but a human and sympathetic character who will tug at the heart-strings of everyone.

The story centers about a noted scientist whose life work and wife are taken by a man who was supposed to be his best friend. Despondent, the scientist joins a circus as a clown. This gives an opportunity for many amusing touches and also for a tender love story. While the story is essentially a tragic one, the background of the European circus takes away any depression that might result.

Buy a Set of Diamond Tires

We will be glad of course to sell you one tire or tube, but if your tires are all about the same age, when one goes bad, it is usually only a short time until the rest give out.

There never was a time when it would pay you better to buy a complete set of Diamond Tires and Tubes than now—there is always the feeling of safety and freedom from tire trouble that goes with new tires and tubes—and at the present time the certainty that you can buy Diamond tires and tubes cheaper now than you can a little later.

Crude rubber is selling for more than four times the price it did less than a year ago.

Tire manufacturers have advanced prices twice in the last 60 days, and still another advance will be necessary if crude rubber continues at its present level.

You can buy for a short time

DIAMOND Tires and Tubes

at old prices, the lowest they were ever sold for— in all but two sizes—33x5 and 35x5; these two sizes we have sold out and have had to replace at new prices. The old price on 33x5 Heavy Service Cord was $34.00. Present price $41.35.

We make a fair allowance for old tires that have resale value.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

MISSOURI LEADS ENTIRE NATION IN 1925 ROAD BUILDING PROGRAM

After lingering around the average of the states in the building of good roads since 1917, according to the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, Missouri has swung to the front in 1925 and leads all in the mileage of good roads under construction.

Missouri's total expenditure for good roads for the fiscal year of 1925 starting June 1 will total $33,964,650.40 with a mileage of 807.7 which is 214.7 miles more than the total mileage of New York State under construction. That state, at a cost of $37,134,682.22 will build roads totaling 593 miles. These statistics give Missouri 214.7 more miles than New York at $3,170,031.82 less cost.

Texas has been the most ambitious of all states in the extent of her road building programs, a total of 3,122.5 miles having been completed prior to July 1, 1924 at a cost of $58,532,623.47. As compared to this showing Missouri completed 803.5 miles of road at a cost of $16,597,926.88. Florida, the lowest state in the list, hardly compares with the showing made by some of the counties in other states. She built only 48.8 miles of roads expending $1,422,604.99 in doing so.

Missouri's good roads will soon total 2005 miles. Of this sum 803.5 miles had been completed prior to July 1, 1925. 264.6 miles have been completed since June 30, 1924, and 807.7 miles is in the process of construction, with 119.3 more miles approved. The balance of the Federal Aid Fund available for new projects is $1,531,671.02.

The total of all good money spent in Missouri for good roads is $63,298,668.94.

More Interested in Meal Than Bandits

St. Louis, Mo., June 9.—Eating is the one big event in the life of Gustave Wachterborn.

Recently he was waxing happy over an evening meal in the restaurant of Ted Titus. Contentment marked his face as he transferred food from plate to mouth.

"Hands up everybody" came the voice of one of two bandits. One of the bandits nudged Wachterborn with his revolver.

He seized a sugar bowl, threw in the general direction of the two holdup men and they fled.

Without further ado Wachterborn returned to his meal.

Wheat Crop Short.

(Omaha Bee)

Washington, June 9.—The American wheat crop this year will be the smallest since 1917, the Department of Agriculture estimated this afternoon. It was stated that the total crop, which will be about 660,885,000 bushels, will be sufficient to take care of domestic requirements. The 1924 crop amounted to 873 million bushels.

Crane, millionaire plumbing manufacturer of Chicago and Geneva, Ill., and who five years ago obtained a divorce on the grounds of cruelty and the right to use her maiden name, in New York, where she now lives, recently said she would bitterly contest Crane's action in Illinois for partial custody of their son, whom he has never seen.

OBITUARY.

Rosamond Irene Burks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Burks was born near Orrsburg, March 6, 1894 and departed this life June 5, 1925. She grew to womanhood in Pickering and was a graduate of the High School at that place with the class of 1912.

On March 24, 1915, she was married to Howard G. Null of Pickering, who with their six year old daughter, Mary Katherine survive her.

She became a member of the Christian Church in early life and took an active part in the work of the church and Bible school.

For several years she was the pianist of the church and was dependable and efficient in whatever task she was assigned.

She leaves besides her husband and daughter her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Burks, four sisters, Mrs. Emma Hackett, Misses Marie and Mildred Burks of Pickering, Mrs. Milton Hull of Maryville; three brothers, Allan, Russell and Paul Burks all of Pickering, besides a host of other relatives and friends to mourn her departure.

Her burial service was conducted in the Christian Church on Sunday afternoon by Rev. J. T. Alsup of Maryville, a former pastor, assisted by her pastor, Rev. T. M. Walton and Rev. R. E. Snodgrass. A quartette from the choir of the Maryville Christian Church sang "Rock of Ages," "Have thine own Way Lord," and "It is Well With My Soul."

The service was attended by a vast company of relatives and friends, which far overtaxed the capacity of the building.

Her remains were interred in the White Oak Cemetery by the side of her new-born son who preceded her but two days.

Wanderlust Urge Is Attacking K. C. Persons

Kansas City, Mo., June 9 (United Press).—The wanderlust urge is attacking Kansas Citians, according to police today. Thirteen persons, five in their 'teens, were reported missing over the week end.

Police say it is just the annual affliction that strikes school boys and men alike. Most of the "missing" will return home in a few days, their desire to travel satisfied, according to headquarters.

A Soul for Beauty

A small boy stood on a bridge and clapped his hands vigorously as he watched the western sky which was diffused with a dull, red glow. A near-sighted stranger watched him for a time.

"It does my heart good to see you appreciate that cloud effect," at length remarked the stranger.

"Yes sir, it's fine," replied the boy excitedly.

"The soul of a poet," sighed the stranger. "Do you often watch sunsets, my boy?"

"Sunset, nothin'! Gee, mister, that's the schoolhouse burnin'."—From Everybody's Magazine for June.

A Course in Citizenship

Believing the American educational system fails to train students in the necessary elements of citizenship, Herbert S. Hadley, chancellor of Washington University, has developed a course of instruction designed to give a better insight into the fundamentals of government, with the hope it will encourage the entrance of more intelligent citizens into the political field and thus raise the standard of government.

The training begins with the first year classes, all freshmen being compelled to take up the study of American history and American government. More advanced classes are offered as electives, special courses in American and English constitutional history and government. For those who desire further training for public service the university established a graduate school of economics and government in Washington.

Chancellor Hadley, who has been in contact with public life a great deal having served as attorney general and governor of Missouri, declared it was his observation that comparatively few college gradnates are to be found in politics and that the average citizen pays too little attention to government because this phase of his education has been neglected.

"When I became chancellor nearly two years ago," Mr. Hadley said, "I set out to shape the course of the students to meet this deficiency. Last autumn we began our citizenship training and I hope it will prove a valuable asset to the students in their contact with the world.

"Up to the present time citizens have proceeded largely on the theory that a safe, if not the only, test needed in selecting men for public office is that the ability to get the job is an assurance of the ability to fill it. While this test has worked fairly well in the selection of men for the more important elective offices, different qualifications must be insisted upon for those who do the specialized expert public service required by the great expansion of the scope and work of government.

"Where are we to look for men with special training necessary to deal with the present problems of government and administration? Is this training something that one can obtain within a college or university? Speaking from the standpoint of one who has had experience with both public and educational work, I believe it can.

"I believe there is, on the part of the leaders of all parties, a growing recognition of the need of the expert and a desire to have his assistance in the operation of the vast machinery of government.

"Law, medicine, engineering, journalism, industry, commerce—in fact, almost every human enterprise—requires for its effective conduct the services of men of special training. In government, which is the most important part—in fact, the very foundation of our civilization—the one great service in its successful execution of which education has no part?

"By teaching a course that deals with the fundamentals of American history and government, the university lays the very foundation for good citizenship.

"It is my belief that students who will follow the course of study we have laid down will become the highest type of citizens and be keenly interested in the running of our government."

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, June 9.—Grains finished substantially higher on the Chicago Board of Trade today. September wheat scored the heaviest although oats made more consistent gains.

Feverish enthusiasm attributed to prediction of a bullish government report, rallied wheat following an indifferent opening.

Corn was bought on the strength of wheat. General favorable conditions prevail over the producing areas. Cash prices finished higher. Trade improved on the steadily diminishing receipts.

Spirited buying by commission houses and some new investments sent oats upward. Crop news was unfavorable.

Provisions advanced with grains.

CATTLE UNEVEN; HOGS LOWER. LAMBS HIGHER.

Kansas City Stock Yards, June 8th, 1925.—Choice to prime fed cattle remained in active demand, but the plain short fed classes and grass fat grades were 10 to 25 cents lower. There was a liberal supply of Oklahoma grass cattle the first this season, and the big part of them was cow stuff. Stockers and feeders were in larger supply than a week ago. Hog prices eased off moderately, but the general market is in a fairly settled condition. Sheep and lamb prices were quoted up 25 cents with the trade active.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 15,000 cattle, 10,000 hogs, and 5,000 sheep, compared with 10,000 cattle, 9,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep a week ago, and 15,525 cattle, 11,900 hogs, and 8,500 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle.

Killers found only a moderate supply of fairly good fed steers today, and bought them readily at strong to slightly higher prices, nothing choice to prime was offered and buyers needed them and would have gone the price limit. The short fed classes and straight grass fat or showed grass sap strongly were 15 to 25 cents lower. The price spread between choice and ordinary kinds will increase from now on. The few good yearlings, light and handy weight steers and mixed butcher classes here brought $10.50 to $11, medium weights $11.50, strictly prime kinds would have brought $11.75 or better. Medium to fairly good kinds $9 to $10.35. Grass fat steers brought $5 to $7.25, and meal and hull fed, $7.85 to $9.50. Except the full fed classes, cows and heifers were 15 to 25 cents lower and slow sale. Straight grass fat grades predominated. Calves were quoted 50 cents lower. Odd lots sold up to $9.50, and straight bunches up to $9.

Stockers and Feeders.

Plain to fairly good stockers and feeders were offered more freely than for some time past. And prices were weak to 25 cents lower. The better grades were fully steady. Stock cows and heifers were off 25 to 50 cents. Stock calves were scarce at steady prices.

Hogs.

Though in the average about 5 cents lower than last week's close the hog market showed more settled condition than for some time past. All interest traded freely and the fact that the market closed steady, after a lower opening indicates a better tone in the trade. The top price was $11.90, and bulk of sales $11.65 to $11.85, light lights sold at $11.35 to $11.55, and stock hogs and pigs at $11.25 to $11.50. Packing sows brought $10.75 to $10.85.

Sheep and Lambs.

Last week lambs were down $1.25 and sheep off 50 cents. Today under an active demand prices rallied 25 cents. Most of the offerings were native lambs that sold at $14.50 to $15. Some Louisiana shorn wethers brought $7.50. Native yearlings sold at $12 to $12.75.

Horses and Mules.

Summer dullness prevails in the horse and mule market. Demand has been shut down to meager supplies. Prices are holding fully steady.

HARMONY

A good interest was shown in the services Sunday morning, though the attendance was not up to the standard. The two adult classes were combined under the teaching of Rev. Underwood. Regular services were held in the evening, with Miss Doris McKee as leader of the Christian Endeavor.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet Wednesday afternoon at the church.

Several handsome charts showing the missionary work of the church are displayed on the walls. This is preparatory to a good collection on Children's Day, when the offering goes to foreign missions.

The children and young people will meet for rehearsal of the Children's Day program Wednesday afternoon.

The high winds of last week broke several large branches from the trees on the church lawn, but no serious damage was done.

Quite a number from this neighborhood attended the funeral of Mrs. Howard Null of Pickering last Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Null was a niece of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Null of this community.

Wilber Cox is driving a shiny new Ford the last week or so.

Miss Ogle McKee was taken suddenly ill last Saturday and it was feared an operation would be required, but the physician advises against it at present. At this writing she is considerably improved.

Mrs. Maude Hunt and her mother, Mrs. Alfred Hunt were trading in Maryville last Friday.

R. V. McKee was in Ravenwood late Saturday afternoon.

Another one of those celebrated million dollar rains fell in this vicinity last Tuesday evening. It spoiled the goods roads for a day or two.

Mrs. Underwood who returned from the hospital last week, continues to improve though still unable to leave the house to any extent.

The recent rains have left the ground in splendid condition and corn is growing rapidly, likewise the weeds.

Fay Woodson Null has so far recovered from his recent operation for appendicitis, that it is planned to bring him home Wednesday of this week.

The enrollment in our orchestra, conducted by Mr. Schnabel, has increased to such a number that it has been found necessary to use Wednesday forenoon also for instruction hours. Full orchestra practice will be Friday evening as before. Several new members enrolled last week, among them being Wilbur Cox, Fay Simmons and John and Marshall Kennedy of Parnell.

In Memoriam:

In loving memory of our beloved husband, and father, Clarence R. Hilsenbeck, who passed away five months ago today, February 9, 1925.

Darling Husband and Father how we miss you.
Miss your kind and loving face.
You have left us all in sorrow,
For no one can fill your place.

Out in the cemetery, softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we love so dearly,
Loved, but could not save.

Yes, our beloved, how we miss you,
With the Angels over yonder,
Singing glad of the blest.

'Tis sad you have gone Dear Husband,
Left us broken hearted here.
But your work on earth is ended,
Yes, we miss you Father Dear.

WOMEN BORN 1873 TO 1881

Now Is the Critical Time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will Help You Safely Through

Convoy, Ohio.—"During the Change of Life I was weak and run-down and could hardly do my work. By reading your advertisements I found out about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has straightened me right out and made me feel like a new woman. By the time I had taken eight bottles I was well and could do my housework on the farm without trouble. I recommended it to my daughter-in-law after her second baby was born and it did her a wonderful lot of good. I told her to try it and if it didn't help her I would pay for it, and before she had taken one bottle she said to me, 'You won't have to pay for it! It is helping me wonderfully!' And she took three bottles of it. You can use my testimonial if you wish."—Mrs. ELSIE ACKERMAN, Convoy, Ohio.

Consider carefully Mrs. Ackerman's letter. Her experience ought to help you. She tells of the trials of middle age and the wonderful results she obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pleased With Work On State Highways

J. M. Malang, Director of Good Roads Bureau Automobile Club, Comments on His 2,000 Mile Trip

St. Louis, June 9—In a letter recently received by Roy F. Britton, president of the Automobile Club of Missouri, from John M. Malang, director of the Good Roads Bureau of the Automobile Club of Missouri, the attitude of the Club on the progress being made on the State Highway System is given expression.

The Automobile Club of Missouri sponsored the initiative proposition which carried at the election in November and provided for addtional funds with which to carry on the highway work.

Mr. Malang's letter follows:

Dear Major Britton:

"I returned home yesterday, and upon investigation find I have driven 2,000 miles of state roads.

"To us who have been connected with road progress for so many years, and who have had the vision to see what a road system would mean for Missouri, it is certainly gratifying to note the improvement, and while the system is far from completion, the marked improvement in the way of maintenance and construction fully justifies our efforts.

"The State system of roads as laid out, when completed, will transform Missouri, and especially the counties south of the Missouri River, and now that the vision is fast becoming a reality the thrill it brings is a great feeling. Many things are being done that probably could be corrected some, but as a whole I think the work is progressing as well as any organization of the size and character could do it.

"It is really remarkable to stop and discuss road maintenance and construction with the men employed by the Department, and see the interest manifested by those so engaged, but the real thrill comes from the gradual change that is fast being made.

"In addition to our trunk line system, the secondary system is going to be such an improvement that all Missourians will be satisfied, and we may look upon this achievement with pardonable pride.

"In a few years, if not disturbed, one may start nearly anywhere in Missouri at populated centers, and drive on boulevards to any other point in Missouri on a improved road as well as drive to and connect with main highways.

"Now, the one great trouble, if we have a trouble, that is ahead of us is to keep intact the organization and keep intact the moneys provided so as to hasten the completion of the road system.

"I am not writing you this for the purpose of convicting or converting you to a road system, but merely to report the feeling I had while driving over Missouri, and know you would have had as much pleasure and satisfaction out of the trip as I have had had you been along, or taken it yourself."

LIL' PLAYMATES

Father Flanagan's Boys Show June 18

Father Flanagan's Boys' Shows of Omaha, Neb., are booked to give a return engagement at the Empire Theater here on June 18.

The personnel of the troupe, while different from that of the previous one, is said to equal, if not surpass that of its predecessor. Many of the boys who were with the show when it showed here last have graduated into other branches of learning at the Home which precludes their traveling.

Most noticeable among the new faces is that of the comedian, who with his humorous makeup, is said to keep the audience in a good humor throughout the performance.

Two boys with exceptionally fine tenor voices hold up the major part of the musical end, although the entire troupe are said to possess remarkably fine voices.

It will be remembered that at the previous performance in our city seats were at a premium. The evening performance will begin at 8:15; while a special matinee will be given for school children at 4 p. m. No children will be permitted in the hall at the evening performance.

Drop in Receipts of Nation's Postoffices

Despite Increase in Rates, Decline is Noted Since April 15—Await Reports in June

Washington, June 9—Postal revenue, instead of being boosted as contemplated in the increased postage rates which became effective April 15, are declining at the rate of more than 12 million dollars a year, it is indicated in a summary of receipts for May.

Receipts at fifty selected postoffices for May totaled $27,454,861, as compared with $29,083,231 for April and $29,085,060 for March. These offices, which turn in more than half of the country's total postal receipts, reported a decrease of more than $20,000 for each business day as compared with March, when the old rates were in effect.

Postal officials are awaiting the June reports, which are expected to show whether the business decrease is temporary. A summary of the effects of the heavier postage rates then will be prepared for presentation to the joint congresional postal committee, which will open hearings here July 20, looking to a permament revision of rates to meet the 68-million-dollar salary increase voted employees by the last congress.

James Dougan and James McGuire of Conception Junction; Orville Adams and Orville George, Sheridan; Clark Evans, Grant City; Malcom Barnes, Parnell; Ed Corwin and son, Carl, and Mrs. Byrl Mathers and daughter, Helen Pearl, of Hopkins, were among Maryville visitors yesterday.

John Mutz motored to Sheridan and Grant City today on business.

National Guard Deserves Support of All Citizens of United States

Under the provisions of the National Defense Act, the National Guard is required to go to camp each year for a fifteen day training period, and also required to have a very high percentage of their enrolled members present.

The National Guard of this state is a part of the army of the United States and hence a part of our National Defensive Forces. This provision of the National Defense Act is the outcome of a careful study of conditions existing, from a National Defense point of view, of the pre-World War and the World War days. Harking back to the utterances of President Washington, when he stated that the safety of the country depended upon a well trained militia, citizen soldiery, rather than a large standing army; and taking into consideration the fact that each member of the Regular Army cost the Government approximately $3,000.00 per year per man, whereas a National Guardsman costs the government approximately $200.00 per year per man, and taking into consideration the fact that it is necessary to have approximately 400,000 men immediately available for any major emergency, it is necessary to organize the National Guard of the various states on a firm and enduring basis. The Federal Government is spending over three dollars for the regular support of the National Guard of this state to each dollar appropriated by the state for the same purpose.

The Federal Government, under Section 80 of the National Defense Act, allows all their employees, who are members of the National Guard, to attend these encampments, without loss of time or efficiency rating. Missouri should do no less.

The Governor is calling to the attention of the various state officers, who are the employers of men, the above facts, and requesting them to allow such of their employees, as are members of the National Guard, to attend the camps to which they may be ordered, without loss of time or efficiency rating.

It is the part of wisdom for all heads of county, city and municipal organizations, and all corporations, to not only authorize, but to urge, their employees, who have enlisted in the National Guard, to live up to their obligations as citizen soldiers. As the members of the National Guard give liberally of their time to prepare themselves to act in case of necessity for the preservation of law and order, it is only fair that they should be allowed to attend camp without charge against their vacation period or without deductions from their regular wages.

Some corporations do not allow their employees to attend camp at all, or else deduct the time thus spent from their vacation period—during which time the young man desires to visit his parents or relatives. This is a short-sighted policy and the leaders in each community where National Guard Units are located, should head a movement to see that each member of the National Guard attend his training camp.

SAYS "NO" ON DEFENSE DAY

Governor Baker said he was not opposed to the suggestion of making July 4 Defense day, but simply had refused to discuss it.

He will issue a statement in a few days calling upon the people of the various communities and cities of the state to celebrate July 4 as they always have done but stressing the defense idea.

Light Palm Beaches

are in demand now, and they will be worn with increasing frequency as the weather gets hotter and hotter.

Firestone BALLOONS

Win Battle of Tires

At Indianapolis, May 30

Setting a New World Mark of 101.13 Miles per hour—500 Miles without Tire Trouble

This gruelling test proves the outstanding superiority of Firestone Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons. With practically no change in cars and drivers from last year, and over the same rough, uneven brick track, laid sixteen years ago—Firestone Balloons racing under a blazing sun—beat last year's world record on thick-walled, high-pressure tires by a wide margin.

Of the 21 cars which started, only 10 finished "in the money"—every one on Firestone Balloons—Gum-Dipped by the extra Firestone process that adds extra strength and flexibility, and eliminates internal friction and heat.
